

Creative Hunt

Cool Trends, New Business Ideas, Creative Ads, Cool Marketing Ideas

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 2007

Watch Your Hotel

All of us know that one of the hardest thing in travel planning is finding the right hotel. We surf the net, read the books and reviews, decide on one but almost always get disappointed. Well, there is a new tool for us that makes everything much easier; TVtrip.

"TVtrip is a new kind of website that uses video to provide travelers with the transparency they need when planning a trip. All of the videos available on the site have been shot by a team of professionals. We are neither a travel agency, nor part of any hotel chain and we do not charge any service fees to users of our site. The prices that are listed on the site are those of TVtrip partners. We are an independent company which provides a quick, easy and trustworthy link to the best prices available. TVtrip is not a booking agent." says on their page.

Yes, videos are getting into every business and TVtrip implements it into the tourism sector in a very efficient and good way.